Art Unit: 2616

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 34 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because

Regarding claim 34, the claimed subject matter "a computer program product ---" and "a computer readable medium ---" is directed toward a software program per se. Since a computer program is merely a set of instructions capable of being executed by a computer, the computer program itself is not a process. In contest, a claimed computer-readable medium encoded with a data structure defines structural and functional interrelationships between the data structure and the computer software and hardware components which permit the data structure's functionality to be realized, and is thus statutory.

Regarding claim 35, the recitation "the computer-readable medium is one selected from group consisting of a data signal embodied in a carrier wave" is non statutory.

3. Claims 34 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. In claim 34, the recitation "computer program product comprising ---program codes for --- was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Further, the recitation "computer program product --- " is not supported by the specification. It is not clear from the specification what "product" has been disclosed. In claim 35, the recitation "the computer readable medium is selected from the group consisting of --- a data signal embodied in a carrier wave" is not supported by the disclosure as originally filed.

4. Applicant's arguments filed 8/9/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant indicated that he is respectfully defers this issue until the substantive patentability of the pending claims has been resolved. Examiner indicated claims 1-15,18-33,36-41,43 are allowable.

5. Claims 1-15,18-33,36-41,43 are allowed.
